Triton College's Introduction to Broadcasting Class is Bringing Back the Magic of Radio

RIVER GROVE, Ill. – Triton College's new Introduction to Broadcasting (MCM E01 201) class enables students to step into the spotlight and pursue a career as a professional disc jockey.

Students are taught the history of broadcasting and radio, different radio genres and formats, FCC rules and regulations, radio public service announcements (PSA) and news writing. They also learn how to operate audio boards, microphones, CD players, turntables and iTunes. Participants can also acquire the knowledge of sports broadcasting, radio promotions and breaking into the radio business.

Upon completion, students can apply to any radio station. They also can be a volunteer disc jockey for Triton College's radio station, WRRG (FM 88.9).

This course has been a hit with students enrolled, especially Sherrie Patrick of Berwyn.

"I was always interested in pursuing a career in radio, but I got sidetracked along the way," said Patrick. "The opportunity to live out a dream presented itself and I decided to take it. When I'm on air and I'm playing good music, it feels amazing that I'm making people happy."

Introduction to Broadcasting will be offered again this fall on Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 10, 7-10 p.m., in Room A-113 (A Building). This is a noncredit course.
