

Adult Education Department

Student Support

Do you feel like you need additional support? We are here to help! Whether you are looking for motivation, resources or simply want to talk with someone who can answer all your questions, our Completion and Transition Specialists (you'll hear us calling them CTS) can help you with whatever you need. Our CTS work with you and your teacher to provide you with the best experience possible while you take classes with us.

The adult education department is committed to supporting students on their educational journey. Our Completion and Transition Specialists (CTS) work with students to establish education and career goals; to create an action plan for goal attainment; and to assess the supports and barriers students encounter on their pathway and connect them to organizations that can help address them. They also collaborate with instructors to help students develop effective personal, college and career readiness, and workforce preparation skills.
