Club vs. Organization

A club is a group of at least ten eligible student members whose primary function is to promote the group’s mission and purpose. The club elects members to take on leadership roles in order to uphold the group’s objectives and rules. The roles include but not limited to, president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and advisor of their choice who meet on a regular basis. Their funding received is from Student Activity Fees administered by the T.C.S.A. budget committee.

An organization is a group of members, no specified number, who work together to provide academic opportunities for the Triton College student body and represent the college as a whole. The organization elects an executive which consists but not limited to, president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and advisor. Their advisor is usually a faculty member from Triton’s academic departments. Their funding received is through their respective academic departments.

Benefits of being in a club:
• Develop and enhance your leadership skills
• Scholarship and community service opportunities
• Notation of club membership on your transcripts
• Recognition award for student involvement
• Develop new friendships
• Learn more about what Triton College has to offer

What advisors say about their clubs:

“There is no better reward than getting a thank you at graduation from the students that you have, in some way, helped to develop.”

- Blanca Gutierrez, Advisor Latin American Student Organization

“Sponsoring a club is a fun, exciting and very fulfilling experience. As a sponsor, you are able to make a difference in students’ lives and experiences at Triton that can have a positive effect on the rest of their lives.”

- Julie Gilbert, Advisor Accounting Club
